Visualize user activities in NetDocuments to improve user behavior.

Information powers your business, and now with NetDocuments Analytics you can access new insights to improve and understand user behavior. Business leaders, practice teams and IT administrators can use Analytics to shape business outcomes.

With Analytics, you can see key information needed to increase user adoption and maximize the value of your document management system (DMS). At-a-glance insights into how users interact with NetDocuments provide the information you need to drive success across the organization.
