Highlights™

Powered by LexisNexis®

Highlights Powered by LexisNexis® is a legal research solution that combines the benefits of LexisNexis® and NetDocuments.

Now, you can enrich your documents using a combination of citations, automatic classifications and entities from LexisNexis – all from within NetDocuments – enjoying the ability to easily link to LexisNexis research pages to further strengthen your argument.

Save time: With Highlights, you ensure you're using the most recent precedent. Not only do you strengthen the argument by citing relevant and valid cases, but you can minimize risk as well.

Citations: Find the ruling you need and know that it hasn't been overturned. Unlike other tools available, Shepard's Signal™ indicators from LexisNexis are automatically applied within NetDocuments, so you automatically receive this information. Then submit your references to any relevant parties, so they don't have to take your word for it.

Classify documents as a motion or other type of litigation document. Automatic classification helps create a network of documents, so you can search for a particular motion as well as any response to that motion.

More information about legal entities, such as judges, company, attorneys, and key witnesses, are at your fingertips. Highlights links you to LexisNexis entities so you can quickly see information about how a judge ruled in the past, what the opposing counsel is known for, how an expert witness has been used in the past, and much more.

Key Capabilities:

1. Seamlessly work within NetDocuments and LexisNexis together, removing hassles and hurdles that take up precious time. With Highlights, you remove the need to search in two windows or copy citations from one system to another.

2. Automatically link to the citations in your document, so you can review cited documents, provide copies to important parties, and ensure your information is relevant to the case you're working on.

3. Shepard's Signals™ tell you if your citation is still valid and current, so you can quickly determine if the cited document is helpful, neutral, or harmful to your argument.

4. Upon uploading a document to NetDocuments, the product will pass it through the LexisNexis analysis engine and automatically identify the citations in the document.

5. Key entities that are important to the case (judge, attorney, etc.) can be linked and navigated to for a more thorough preparation.

6. Easily classify documents and group them together – a tremendous time saver for attorneys dealing with hundreds of motions and responses.

With Highlights, the benefits and research capabilities of LexisNexis® are brought directly into the NetDocuments cloud.
