

When you spend less time searching and more time doing.

That's Work Inspired™

The LEARN
Solution

netdocuments®

LEARN

LEARN makes your documents as intelligent as your people—by turning all of your content into a single, intelligent and fully searchable source of truth. With the growing family of LEARN products, you can provide faster, easier and safer access to the information your teams depend on, gain a deeper, more actionable understanding of your documents and how people use them, and make your content an even more productive and intelligent engine for your growth and success.

Add On Technology Options:

Analytics

Gain the insights you need to help improve user behavior, shape business outcomes, and get more value from your NetDocuments investment.

Analytics provides data analysis and visualization tools you can use to turn a wealth of user activity, system performance, and team collaboration data into deep insights that will unlock the full potential of your NetDocuments solution. With Analytics, you can quickly identify who is using NetDocuments the most (or not at all), reward top contributors, and encourage increased participation. You can see how your teams are working together and find areas for improvement and training. And you can monitor the performance of your entire NetDocuments system, so you can address problem areas and maximize your ROI.

NetKnowledge (powered by BA Insight)

Save time, boost productivity, and streamline workflows by expanding and unifying your enterprise search.

NetKnowledge replaces the slow, frustrating process of searching through different systems and applications individually with one fast, safe, and familiar search experience. With NetKnowledge, you can create a single, federated source of truth that includes all of the documents, ideas, policies and other essential information stored in different systems across your organization. NetKnowledge also simplifies workflows by making NetDocuments part of your enterprise search solution without requiring you to repeatedly download and index content. And it respects existing data access restrictions put in place at the source of the data, making sure searches only return information that people are authorized to see.

Highlights (powered by LexisNexis)

With Highlights, you can save time, protect your firm, and strengthen your arguments by doing little more than uploading a file to NetDocuments.

Highlights Powered by LexisNexis® is a legal research and knowledge management solution combining the benefits of Lexis and NetDocuments. With Highlights, entity extraction and many of the Lexis' research capabilities are brought directly into the NetDocuments viewer, and when your research needs to go deeper, a single click will take you directly into the specific research endpoint at Lexis that you need. Now, firms can easily locate and classify precedent documents—a tremendous time saver for attorneys dealing with hundreds of pleadings and responses. Due diligence is a breeze with the entity extraction and direct links to Lexis. Enrich your documents using a combination of citations, and entity extraction from LexisNexis—all from within NetDocuments.

Analytics

NetDocuments Analytics gives your business leaders, practice teams, and IT administrators the analytical tools and deep insights they need to understand and improve user behavior, shape business outcomes, and maximize the value of the information that powers your business.

With Analytics, you see exactly when and how users are interacting with your NetDocuments system, so you can take active steps to boost user adoption, increase the value of your document management system (DMS), and transform your information into an even more powerful resource for driving success across your organization.

Gain deeper visibility into how people are using NetDocuments

- Share Insights and Expertise

Workspace Analytics makes it easier to identify top users and key contributors, so you can actively promote collaboration and knowledge sharing across your organization.

- Maximize ROI

Cabinet Analytics provides the data you need to understand how your teams work, so you can identify areas for improvement and targeted training.

- Monitor System Performance

Repository Analytics gives you a view into system speed, usage, and other key performance data, so you know you're always getting the most out of your NetDocuments investment.

Transparency Is the New Expectation

NetDocuments Analytics provides deep insights across your business, departments, and projects, so everyone in your organization can spend less time searching for answers and more time focused on key tasks that fuel your growth and success.

NetKnowledge Powered by BA Insights

To compete and succeed, your employees need instant, reliable access to all of the best ideas, official policies, and collective knowledge your organization has to offer—no matter where they're located. In this environment, a disjointed, limited collection of search tools that can only find information in specific applications or systems will inevitably lead to confusion, poor alignment, and wasted time.

NetKnowledge solves this problem—by bringing all of your data, documents, and systems together into a cohesive and unified single source of truth, so your users can quickly find all the information they need—across your entire organization—with a single search.

Instantly locate documents and resources across your entire organization

- Find Everything You Need

Pinpoint key documents, experts, business partners, and other information previously locked in separate business applications and systems with one fast, convenient search.

- Protect the User Experience and Your Documents

Boost confidence by giving employees fast, secure access to all of your best information through one simple search experience.

- Get Accurate Answers to Crucial Questions

Curate best practices and highlight official answers using knowledge management contributions and key term boosting capabilities.

Increase Knowledge Sharing Without the Risk

NetKnowledge lets you skip all of the time-consuming customization and meta data mapping that usually go with enterprise search solutions. With NetKnowledge, you can quickly bring all of your collective wisdom and knowledge together through a single search tool—while still keeping sensitive information secure and hidden from people without the proper access rights.

Highlights Powered by LexisNexis

You know that legal research is essential, but even the best solutions require manual steps which take a lot of time and energy. But now, with Highlights Powered by LexisNexis, you can save time, protect your firm, and strengthen your arguments by doing little more than uploading a file to NetDocuments.

Highlights works by passing files in NetDocuments through the LexisNexis analysis engine. It will automatically find citations, link Shepard Signals, and identify key entities with links to more research in LexisNexis that is pertinent to your argument or transaction. That way, you have everything you need to dive into the details of your strategy, right at your fingertips.

Enrich your documents using a combination of citations, automatic classification and entities from LexisNexis, all from within NetDocuments.

- Citations

Unlike other tools available, Shepard's Signal™ indicators from LexisNexis are applied within NetDocuments, so you automatically receive this information.

- Classify Documents

Classify documents as a motion or other type of litigation document. Automatic classification helps create a network of documents, so you can search for a particular motion as well as any response to that motion.

- Due Diligence

Highlights identifies companies within your documents and with a single click you can access a wealth of LexisNexis data, including SEC filings, analyst reports such as Gartner and Forrester, Dun & Bradstreet financial information, and news content.

- Extend Your Research

Highlights links you to LexisNexis entities so you can quickly see information about how a judge ruled in the past, what the opposing counsel is known for, how an expert witness has been used in the past, and much more.

Arm yourself with the most up to date and relevant information that you can find in seconds.

Once a file is uploaded to NetDocuments, citations are automatically marked. Key information about the matter—such as the judge, attorneys, expert witnesses, and more—is automatically extracted, made searchable in NetDocuments, and linked to deeper research options available in Lexis Nexis, providing critical insights that will help you ultimately build an air-tight case.

When great legal minds can think alike.

That's Work Inspired™

Turn all of your content into an intelligent and fully searchable source of truth with LEARN. With this growing family of products, you can harness both the power of your documents and the wisdom and experience of your top users.

LEARN makes it faster, easier, and safer for your teams to access the information they depend on while providing you with a deeper understanding of how they use that content to fuel your growth and success.

Give your teams the tools they need to Work Inspired.

Get LEARN today.

To learn more, visit
www.NetDocuments.com or call (866) 638-3627.

netdocuments®

